According to information received by National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT), State Government of Gujarat has decided not to implement Adolescence Education Programme, and the State Government of Kerala has decided to review the content of the programme. The State Government of Maharashtra is in the process of reviewing the content of the programme. The State Government of Rajasthan has informed that it has decided not to implement the programme in its present form.

Reasons for refusal are not uniform, but the main cause for opposition has been some of the material for use under the programme.

(c) Before introduction of Adolescence Education Programme, A national seminar involving various stakeholders including experts, educationists, State Government, representatives, teachers, parents and the adolescent was held to elicit opinioin. These were followed by regional seminars.
